

Writer _____

Reviewer _____

Peer Review of Essay #3: Analytical Essay with Documentation

Evaluative Questions	Yes	Somewhat	No
1. Is the title informative and interesting? Does the introductory paragraph engage the reader?  _____
2. Does the writer identify the documentary The Gleaners and I and the producer/director Agnès Varda early in the essay? Does the writer provide a clear summary of the documentary(3- 4 sentences, at least) and identify the purpose of the documentary?  _____
3. Does the essay have a clear focus? Underline the thesis of the essay.  _____
4. Is the paragraphing effective: -- topic sentence paragraphs fully developed? -- functional paragraphs rhetorically effective? -- paragraphs coherent, unified, connected logically? Circle transitional words, phrases, and sentences within the essay.  _____
5. Does the writer support all claims with sufficient facts, details, examples from the documentaries? Put an X in the margin of the paper where you think the writer needs to add more information, examples, details, or explanation.  _____
6. Does the writer use rhetorical devices to engage the reader? (dialogue, metaphorical language, repetition, images, etc.)  _____
7. Is the language appropriate for college- level writing? Are the sentences varied in length? Do the sentences consistently rely on strong action verbs? Place a check above verbs that are strong action verbs in the essay.  _____
8. Is the writing free of grammatical errors?  _____
9. Does the conclusion wrap up the essay effectively?  _____
10. Has the writer documented sources correctly within the essay? Is there a works cited page?  _____			